The Greens Report

We will start the transition back to Bermuda this month. The greens made it through the winter in good shape. With the seasonal temps in March the Bermuda has been waiting for consistent temperatures so they can wake up and grow. We did not fertilize to push growth until we were certain that the cold temperatures were gone.

The Bermuda rough has been mowed once. We started the season mowing the rough at  $\frac{3}{4}$ " and will continue to mow at this height for as long as we can. By starting this low, we should be able to keep the rough height under 1.5 inches this year.

Rounds 4 Research is coming up! This is an innovative program designed to generate resources to fund research and help ensure the future of golf. You can bid in an auction to purchase rounds of golf at facilities all over the country. The auction is set for April 30 – May 6.

Call the Golf Shop for more information or visit the website at www.biddingforgood.com. I will also send more information in the eblast!

See you on the course!
